

This would set amateur radio back, just when it need more new people.